

ART

@ Torey J. Sabatini

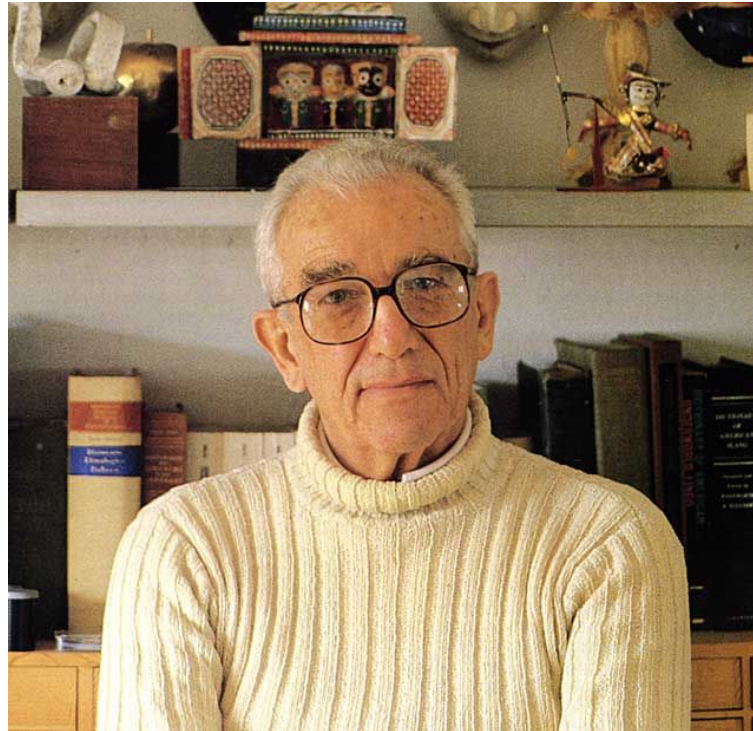

Leo Lionni and the Use of Collage

What is your favorite animal?

In this lesson, we will learn about Leo Lionni, an author and illustrator that also loved animals. He illustrated animals using a method called collage.

Here are some animals that he illustrated in his books:

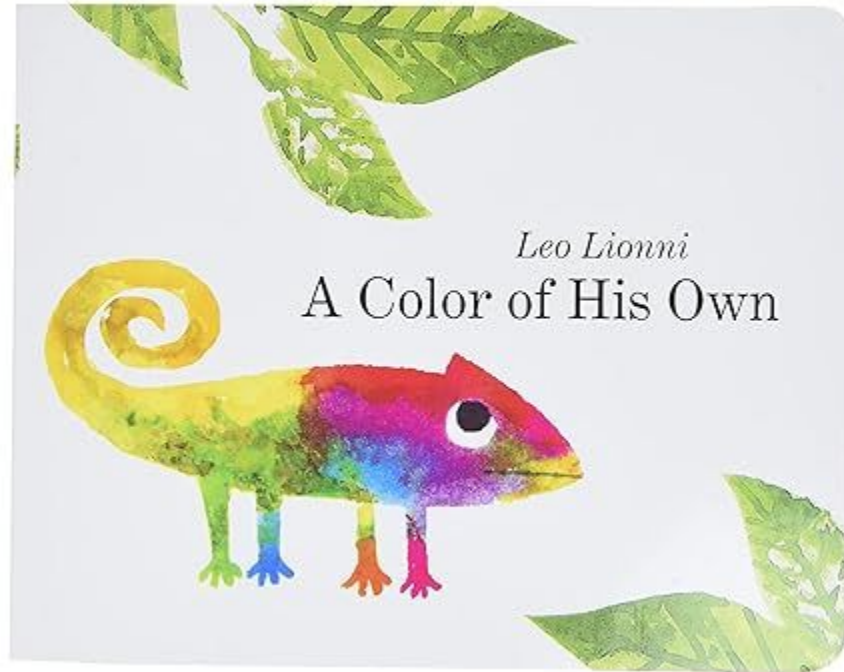

Here are some animals that he illustrated in his books:

Here are some animals that he illustrated in his books:

We will read one of Leo Lionni's books, A Color of His Own. Pay attention to the animals in the story!

Reflecting on the story:

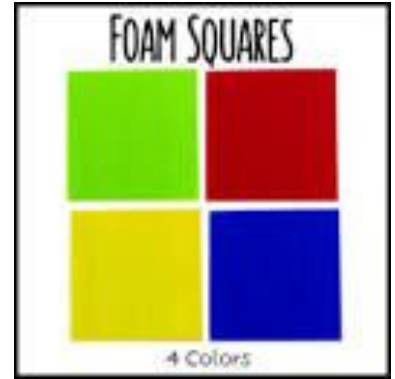

1. Which animals did Leo Lionni write about in A Color of His Own?
2. What do you notice about them?

Leo Lionni is special because he made these pictures using a method called collage. A collage is made when we take pieces of different items and stick them together to make a new thing.

To do:

Just as Leo Lionni, you will make your own chameleons using collage. Feel free to use any or all of the materials provided:

The goal is to make each chameleon your own! Make it unique.

First, write your name and your class on the back of the chameleon!